1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND GOING CONCERN

Hybrid Power Solutions Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on December 7, 2015, under the Business Corporations Act of Ontario, and continued into British Columbia under the Business Corporations Act of British Columbia on June 13, 2022. Its head office is located at 208-333 Terminal Avenue, Vancouver, British Columbia, V6A 4C1, and its manufacturing facility is in Toronto, Ontario. HPS Solar Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company, was incorporated under the laws of Ontario on March 17, 2022.

The Company designs and manufactures patent pending portable battery systems and customized energy solutions for a variety of industrial markets, including the mining, railway, public transit, and construction sectors. During the year ended May 31, 2023, the Company, through its wholly owned subsidiary, HPS Solar Inc., introduced a franchise network of solar power installers that operate under the Company's trademark and offer the sale and installation of the Company's products.

On November 29, 2023, the Company's common shares became listed on the Canadian Securities Exchange ("CSE") under the symbol HPSS. On December 1, 2023 the Company closed its initial public offering ("IPO") and began trading on the CSE on December 4, 2023. The Company's common shares are also listed on the Over-the-Counter Quotation Board ("OTCQB") exchange under the symbol HPSIF and Frankfurt Stock Exchange ("FSE") under the symbol E092.

Going concern

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the basis of accounting principles applicable to a going concern which assumes the Company will be able to continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of operations.

The Company has not generated positive cash flows from operations and has historically relied on financing for its activities. During the three months ended August 31, 2026, the Company incurred a net loss of $1,016,223 (2025 - $627,687) and as of August 31, 2026, had an accumulated deficit of $17,148,641 (May 31, 2026 - 16,132,419). The Company's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon raising additional capital or evaluating strategic alternatives, and/or generating profitability and positive cash flows. The Company has a track record of successfully raising capital, including issuance of convertible debentures, additionally, the Company raised capital through the issuance of share capital amounting to $2,314,500 during the year-ended 2026, however, it is not possible to predict with certainty whether additional financing will be required.

These consolidated financial statements do not reflect adjustments that would be necessary if the going concern assumption was not appropriate. If the going concern assumption was not appropriate for these consolidated financial statements, adjustments would be necessary to the statement of financial position classifications used. Such adjustments could be material.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Statement of compliance
These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS® Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB").

Basis of presentation
These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in Canadian dollars on a historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments, which are stated at fair value. In addition, they have been prepared using the accrual basis of accounting, except for the cash flow information.

Basis of consolidation
These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiary. Subsidiaries are those entities over which the Company has control. Control exists when the Company has the power, directly or indirectly, to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity and be exposed to variable returns from its activities. Details of the Company's subsidiary are follows:

SUBSIDIARIES	OWNERSHIP PERCENTAGE	JURISDICTION OF INCORPORATION
HPS Solar Inc.	100%	Ontario, Canada

Inter-company balances and transactions are eliminated on consolidation.

The consolidated financial statements were approved and authorized for issuance on October 29, 2026, by the Board of Directors.

Significant accounting judgments and estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual outcomes could differ from these estimates. The consolidated financial statements include estimates which, by their nature, are uncertain. The impacts of such estimates are pervasive throughout the consolidated financial statements and may require accounting adjustments based on future occurrences. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised, and the revision affects both the current and future periods.

Judgments

The following are the judgments that have been made in applying the Company's accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts in the consolidated financial statements:

Going concern
The assumption that the Company will be able to continue as a going concern is subject to critical judgments by management with respect to assumptions surrounding the short and long-term operating budget, expected profitability, investing and financing activities and management's strategic planning. Should those judgments prove to be inaccurate, management's continued use of the going concern assumption could be inappropriate.

Research and development expenditures
Costs to develop products are capitalized to the extent that the criteria for recognition as intangible assets in IAS 38 Intangible Assets are met. Those criteria require that the product is technically and economically feasible, which management assessed based on the attributes of the development project, perceived user needs, industry trends and expected future economic conditions. Management considers these factors in aggregate and applies significant judgment to determine whether the product is feasible. The Company has not capitalized any product development costs as of August 31, 2026 and at year-end 2026.

Income taxes
Income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the estimated tax consequences between amounts included in the financial statements and their tax base using substantively enacted future income tax rates. Timing of future revenue streams and future capital spending changes can affect the timing of any temporary differences, and accordingly, affect the amount of the deferred tax asset or liability calculated at a point in time. The Company believes that its accruals for tax balances are adequate for all open audit years based on its assessment of many factors including past experience and interpretations of tax law. This assessment relies on estimates and assumptions and may involve a series of complex judgments about future events. These differences could materially impact net income (loss).

Estimates

The following are the estimates and assumptions that have been made in applying the Company's accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts in the consolidated financial statements:

Provision for expected credit losses ("ECL")
For trade receivables, the Company applies a simplified approach to calculating ECL. Therefore, the Company does not track changes in credit risk, but instead recognises a loss allowance based on lifetime ECL at each reporting date, by applying a loss rate to each aging bucket. In estimating the ECL, management takes into account historical experience, current collection trends, age of receivables and when warranted and available, the financial condition of specific counterparties.

Inventory
Inventory is valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Net realizable value is determined with reference to the estimated selling price. The Company estimates selling price based upon assumptions about future demand and current and anticipated retail market conditions.

Property and equipment – useful lives
The Company estimates the useful lives and selects methods used to allocate depreciation amounts of property and equipment on a systematic basis. Technical obsolescence of the tangible assets could significantly impact estimated residual useful lives and in turn, carrying values being over or understated.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets
The Company reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets, including property and equipment and right-of-use assets, when events or changes in circumstances indicate the assets may not be recoverable. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss, if any. The Company considers various factors including, but not limited to, the condition of its long-lived assets, economic factors that may impact the value of the long-lived assets and any indications of obsolescence.

Return and warranty liability
Revenue is recorded net of the returns and refunds. The Company offers various warranties on its products, and an allowance for warranty claims is made based on the estimated number of repairs and replacements.

Leases - Estimating the incremental borrowing rate
In situations where the Company cannot readily determine the interest rate implicit in leases where it is the lessee, the Company uses its Incremental Borrowing Rate ("IBR") to measure the lease liabilities. The IBR is the rate of interest that the Company would have to pay to borrow over a similar term, and with a similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of comparable value to the right-of-use asset in a similar economic environment. IBR therefore reflects what the Company "would have to pay", which requires estimation when no observable rates are available or where the applicable rates need to be adjusted to reflect the terms and conditions of the lease. The Company estimates the IBR using observable inputs (such as market interest rates) when available and is required to make certain entity-specific estimates.

Fair value of share-based payments

Management uses the Black-Scholes option-pricing model to calculate the fair value of share-based payments, including options and warrants. Management considers factors that knowledgeable, willing market participants would consider when selecting the appropriate valuation model to apply. Use of this method requires assumptions and estimates about the share price on the measurement date, expected life of the instruments, expected dividends, the risk-free rate (based on government bonds), and the expected volatility of the Company's share price (based on weighted average historical volatility of comparable companies adjusted for changes expected due to publicly available information). In making these assumptions and estimates, management relies on historical market data. The inputs to the model are subject to estimate and changes in these inputs can materially impact the estimated fair value of these instruments. The fair value reported may not represent the transaction value if these options/warrants were exercised/exchanged at any point in time.

Compound financial instruments and fair value of derivatives

The convertible debentures have been accounted for as a compound financial instrument under IAS 32 - Financial Instruments, and had both a liability and embedded derivatives components. The conversion feature of the convertible debentures and related warrants are accounted for as derivative liabilities and are required to be fair valued on inception and at each reporting period. The estimates, assumptions and judgements made in relation to the fair value of the derivative liabilities are subject to measurement uncertainty. The valuation techniques used to determine fair value require inputs that involve assumptions and judgements such as estimating the future volatility of the stock price and expected life. Such judgements and assumptions are inherently uncertain.

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION

The accounting policies set out below have been applied and consistently presented in these consolidated financial statements, unless otherwise indicated.

a) Revenue recognition

Revenue consists of product sale revenue, franchise revenue, and consulting and other revenue. Revenue is recognized at the point in which the performance obligation under the terms of a contract with the customer have been satisfied and control has transferred. In the case of product sale revenue, the Company's performance obligation is typically defined as the accepted order with the customer which requires the Company to ship the requested products at agreed upon prices at the time and location of the customer's choice. The Company satisfies its performance obligation and transfers control to the customer upon shipping of the product. A provision for payment discounts and product return allowances is recorded as a reduction of sales in the same period the revenue is recognized. Franchise revenues include initial franchise fees earned on execution of a franchise agreement, royalty fees and advertising revenue are earned based on a percentage of the franchisee's gross sales each month. All franchise revenues are recognized as revenue as earned. In the case of initial franchise fees, revenue is deferred and recognized over the period of the franchise agreement. The revenue recorded is presented net of sales and other taxes the Company collects on behalf of governmental authorities. Amounts received from customers in advance of revenue recognition are recorded as contract liabilities. The Company's customer contracts do not contain a significant financing component. Incremental costs of obtaining a contract are recognized as an asset if they are expected to be recovered from the customer. As a practical expedient, incremental costs of obtaining a contract can be expensed if the amortization period would be one year or less. Costs to fulfil a contract are recognized as an asset only if they relate directly to a contract, generate or enhance resources to be used to satisfy performance obligations in future, and are expected to be recovered.

b) Inventories and cost of sales

Inventory consists primarily of raw materials and finished goods. Inventory is valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value with cost based upon the First In First Out ("FIFO") method of inventory costing. The net realizable value of finished goods is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs necessary to make the sale. The cost of finished goods inventory is based on landed cost, which includes all costs incurred to bring inventory to the Company's warehouse including product costs, inbound freight and duty. If the Company determines that the estimated net realizable value of its inventory is less than the carrying value of such inventory, it records a charge to cost of sales.

c) Financial instruments

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

The Company recognizes a financial asset when it becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. The Company classifies financial assets at initial recognition as financial assets: measured at amortized cost, measured at fair value through other comprehensive income or measured at fair value through profit or loss. Financial assets are initially recognized at fair value plus transaction costs directly attributable to the asset, except for transaction costs for financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss which are expensed as incurred.

The Company's business model for managing financial assets refers to how it manages its financial assets in order to generate cash flows. The business model determines whether cash flows will result from collecting contractual cash flows, selling the financial assets, or both. Assessment and decision on the business model approach used is an accounting judgment.

Subsequent measurement
The subsequent measurement of financial assets depends on their classification as follows:

i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL")

Financial assets measured at fair value through profit and loss are carried in the consolidated statement of financial position at fair value with changes in fair value therein, recognized in profit or loss.

ii) Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVTOCI")

Financial assets measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are measured at fair value with changes in fair value included in other comprehensive income.

iii) Financial assets measured at amortized cost

Financial assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost, using the effective interest method and net of any impairment allowance, if:

- the asset is held within a business whose objective is to hold assets in order to collect contractual cash flows; and
- the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise, on specified dates, to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest.

Impairment
In relation to the impairment of financial assets, IFRS requires an ECL model. The ECL model requires the Company to account for ECLs and changes in those ECLs at each reporting date to reflect changes in credit risk since initial recognition of the financial assets.

Derecognition
A financial asset or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets is derecognized when:

- the contractual rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired; or
- the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are recognized when the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument. A financial liability is derecognized when it is extinguished, discharged, cancelled or when it expires. Financial liabilities are classified as either financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss or financial liabilities subsequently measured at amortized cost. All interest-related charges are reported in profit or loss within interest expense, if applicable.

Compound financial instruments

The Company's convertible debentures are segregated into their debt and equity components or derivative liability components at the date of issue, in accordance with the substance of the contractual agreements. The conversion feature of the convertible debentures is presumed to be classified as a derivative financial liability unless it meets all the criteria to recognize as an equity instrument under IAS 32, Financial Instruments: Presentation. One of the criteria is that the conversion option exchanges a fixed number of shares for a fixed amount of cash ("fixed for fixed").

If the conversion feature meets the fixed for fixed criterion, the conversion option will be classified as an equity instrument. Therefore, when the initial carrying amount of the convertible debentures is allocated to its equity and liability components, the equity component is assigned the residual amount after deducting from the fair value of the instrument, which is determined using a market rate for an equivalent non-convertible debenture. The sum of the carrying amounts assigned to the liability and equity components on initial recognition is always equal to the fair value that would be ascribed to the instrument as a whole. No gain or loss arises from initially recognizing the components of the instrument separately.

If the conversion feature does not meet the fixed for fixed criterion, the conversion option will be recorded as a derivative financial liability, which must be separately accounted for at fair value on initial recognition. Subsequent to initial recognition, the derivative financial liability is remeasured at fair value at the end of each reporting period with changes in fair value recognized in profit or loss for each reporting period, while the debt component, initially recorded net of any transaction costs, is accreted to the face value of the debt using the effective interest method.
Transaction costs are allocated to the debt and equity components or derivative liability components in proportion to the allocation of the proceeds on initial recognition, net of any related income tax benefit for the amount allocated to the equity component.

Fair value hierarchy

Fair value measurements of financial instruments are required to be classified using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of inputs used in making the measurements. The levels of the fair value hierarchy are defined as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
Level 3 - Inputs for assets or liabilities that are not based on observable market data, comprehensive income or loss.

The Company's financial instruments are accounted for as follows:

Financial Assets
Cash	FVTPL
Accounts and other receivables	Amortized cost

d) Loss per share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the loss for the year by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. For diluted loss per share computations, assumptions are made regarding potential common shares outstanding during the year. The weighted average number of common shares is increased to include the number of additional common shares that would be outstanding if potentially dilutive instruments were converted or exercised. If these computations prove to be antidilutive, diluted loss per share is the same as basic loss per share.

Anti-dilutive securities include the convertible debentures, restricted share units, stock options, performance warrants and warrants (Notes 13 and 18).

e) Income taxes

Income tax expense comprises current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognized in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss, except to the extent that it relates to items recognized in other comprehensive loss or directly in equity. In this case the income tax is also recognized in other comprehensive loss or directly in equity, respectively.

Current income tax

Current income tax assets and liabilities for the current period are measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or paid to taxation authorities. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date, in the countries where the Company operates and generates taxable income.

Current income tax relating to items recognized directly in other comprehensive income or equity is recognized in other comprehensive income or equity and not in profit or loss. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on temporary differences at the reporting date arising between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amount for financial reporting purposes.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the end of each reporting period and recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable income will be available to allow all or part of the temporary differences to be utilized. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the year when the asset is realized or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted and are expected to apply by the end of the reporting period. Deferred tax assets and deferred income tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exist to set off current tax assets against current income tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

f) Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. This includes the purchase price, any other costs directly attributable to bringing the assets to a working condition for intended use and the costs of dismantling and removing the items and restoring the site on which they are located.

Where an item of equipment comprises significant parts with useful lives that are significantly different from that of the asset as a whole, the parts are accounted for as separate items of equipment and depreciated accordingly. An item of equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising from derecognizing an asset determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset, is recognized through profit or loss.

Property and equipment is depreciated over its estimated useful life. Costs for normal repairs and maintenance that do not extend economic life or improve service potential are expensed as incurred. Costs of improvements that extend economic life or improve service potential are capitalized and depreciated over the estimated remaining useful life. The Company commences recording depreciation when the assets are in a working condition ready for use using the straight-line method at the following rates:

Class	Useful Life
Computer equipment	3 years
Equipment	3 years
Leased right of use assets	Lease term
Vehicles	15 years
Loaner units	1 - 2.5 years

3. MATERIAL ACCOUNTING POLICY INFORMATION (continued)

g) Impairment of long-lived assets

The carrying amount of the Company's non-financial assets (which include property and equipment and ROU assets) is reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss. An impairment loss is recognized whenever the carrying amount of an asset or its cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognized in the consolidated statement of comprehensive loss.

The recoverable amount of assets is the greater of an asset's fair value less cost to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects the current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. For an asset that does not generate cash inflows largely independent of those from other assets, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

An impairment loss is only reversed if there is an indication that the impairment loss may no longer exist and there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. Any reversal of impairment cannot increase the carrying value of the asset to an amount higher than the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized in previous years.

Assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortization and are tested annually for impairment.

h) Leases

At inception, the Company assesses whether a contract contains an embedded lease. A contract contains a lease when the contract conveys a right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration.

The Company, as lessee, is required to recognize a right-of-use asset ("ROU asset"), representing its right to use the underlying asset, and a lease liability, representing its obligation to make lease payments.

The Company recognizes a ROU asset and a lease liability at the commencement of the lease. The ROU asset is initially measured based on the present value of lease payments, plus initial direct cost, less any incentives received. It is subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation, impairment losses and adjusted for certain remeasurements of the lease liability. The ROU asset is depreciated from the commencement date over the shorter of the lease term or the useful life of the underlying as set. The ROU asset is subject to testing for impairment if there is an indicator of impairment.

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments that are not paid at the commencement date, discounted by the interest rate implicit in the lease, or if that rate cannot be readily determined, the incremental borrowing rate. The incremental borrowing rate is the rate which the operation would have to pay to borrow over a similar term and with similar security, the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value to the ROU asset in a similar economic environment.

h) Leases (continued)

Lease payments included in the measurement of the lease liability are comprised of:

- fixed payments, including in-substance fixed payments;
- variable lease payments that depend on an index or a rate, initially measured using the index or rate as at the commencement date;
- amounts expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee;
- the exercise price under a purchase option that the Company is reasonably certain to exercise;
- lease payments in an optional renewal period if the Company is reasonably certain to exercise an extension option; and
- penalties for early termination of a lease unless the Company is reasonably certain not to terminate early.

The lease liability is subsequently increased by the interest cost on the lease liability and decreased by lease payments made. It is remeasured when there is a change in future lease payments arising from a change in an index or a rate, a change in the estimate of the amount expected to be payable under a residual value guarantee, or as appropriate, changes in the assessment of whether a purchase or extension option is reasonably certain to be exercised or a termination option is reasonably certain not to be exercised.

Variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or a rate not included in the initial measurement of the ROU asset and lease liability are recognized as an expense in the consolidated statements of loss and comprehensive loss in the period in which they are incurred.

The ROU assets are presented within “Right-of-use asset” and the lease liabilities are presented in “Lease liability” on the consolidated statements of financial position. The Company has elected not to recognize right-of-use assets and lease liabilities for short-term leases that have a remaining lease term of 12 months or less and leases of low-value assets.

i) Foreign exchange

Functional currency

Items included in the consolidated financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the “functional currency”), which has been determined to be the Canadian dollar for both the Company and its subsidiary.

Foreign currency transaction and balances

Transactions in currencies other than the entity’s functional currency are recorded at the average rates of exchange prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities are translated using the period-end foreign exchange rate. Non-monetary assets and liabilities are translated using the historical rate on the date of the transaction. The resulting foreign exchange gains or losses are recorded in profit or loss.

j) Government assistance

Government grants are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the Company has complied with the conditions of the grant. Such grants are accounted for as income on a systemic basis over the periods in which the Company recognizes expenses for the related costs for which the grants are intended to compensate. Government grants related to the acquisition or construction of property and equipment or other non-current assets are initially recognized as deferred income and are recognized in profit or loss on a systematic basis over the useful lives of the related assets. Alternatively, where appropriate, the grant may be presented as a deduction from the carrying amount of the related asset, with the benefit recognized through reduced depreciation expense over the asset's useful life.

j) Government assistance (continued)

k) Recent accounting pronouncements

IFRS 18 "Presentation and Disclosure in Financial Statements"

In April 2024, IFRS 18 was issued to achieve comparability of the financial performance of similar entities. The standard, which replaces IAS 1, impacts the presentation of primary financial statements and notes, including the statement of earnings where companies will be required to present separate categories of income and expense for operating, investing, and financing activities with prescribed subtotals for each new category. The standard will also require management-defined performance measures to be explained and included in a separate note within the consolidated financial statements. The standard is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2027, including interim financial statements, and requires retrospective application. The Company is in the process of assessing the impact of the amendment on the consolidated financial statements.

IFRS 9 and IFRS 7, Amendments to the Classification and Measurement of Financial Instruments

In May 2024, both IFRS 9 and IFRS 7 were amended to clarify that a financial liability is derecognized on the 'settlement date' and introduce an accounting policy choice to derecognize financial liabilities settled using an electronic payment system before the settlement date. Other clarifications include the classification of financial assets with environmental, social, and governance linked features via additional guidance on the assessment of contingent features. Clarifications have been made to non-recourse loans and contractually linked instruments. Additional disclosures are introduced for financial instruments with contingent features and equity instruments classified at fair value through other comprehensive income. The amendments are effective for annual periods starting on or after January 1, 2026. Early adoption is permitted, with an option to early adopt the amendments for contingent features only. The Company has not yet assessed the impact of the amendment on the consolidated financial statements.

4. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

The Company is exposed to various financial instrument risks and assesses the impact and likelihood of this exposure. These risks include liquidity risk, credit risk, foreign exchange rate risk and interest rate risk. Where material, these risks are reviewed and monitored by the Board of Directors.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company currently settles its financial obligations out of cash. The ability to do this relies on the Company raising debt and equity financing in a timely manner and by maintaining sufficient cash in excess of anticipated needs. The Company has cash as of August 31, 2026, in the amount of $304,172 (May 31, 2026 - $234,500), in order to meet current liabilities of $3,403,991 (May 31, 2026 - $3,590,943). There is no assurance that financing will be available or, if available, that such financing will be on terms acceptable to the Company. The Company monitors its risk of shortage of funds by monitoring the maturity dates of its existing liabilities.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to a concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash and accounts receivable. The Company limits its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash with high-quality financial institutions. The Company mitigates credit risk by evaluating the creditworthiness of customers prior to conducting business with them and monitoring its exposure for credit losses with existing customers. During the three months ended August 31, 2026, the Company recorded bad expense of $65,733 (May 31, 2026- expense of $123,007).

Foreign exchange rate risk

Currency risk is the risk of loss due to the fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the effects of these fluctuations on foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities. A portion of the Company's transactions occur in US dollars; therefore, the Company is exposed to foreign currency risk at the end of the reporting period through its US dollars denominated trade receivables, accounts payable and accrued liabilities. A change of 1% in the U.S./CDN exchange rate will have an immaterial impact on the net loss.

The balances held in USD are summarized below presented in CAD:

As of	August 31, 2026	May 31, 2026

Cash	(5,036)	-
Accounts receivable	361,995	235,723
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	(160,127)	(195,059)

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates. The Company's exposure to interest rate risk arises primarily from their loans payable, line of credit and convertible debentures. The Company does not expect any significant effect on the Company's profit or loss arising from the effects of reasonably possible changes to interest rates on interest bearing financial instruments at the end of the financial year.

Capital Management

The Company's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, so that it can provide returns for shareholders and benefits for other stakeholders.

The Company depends on external financing to fund its activities. The Company considers its capital structure to consist of shareholders' deficiency, line of credit, loans payable, and convertible debentures. The Company manages the capital structure and makes adjustments to it in the light of changes in economic conditions and the risk characteristics of the underlying assets. In order to maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may issue new shares through private placements, or sell assets to fund operations. Management reviews its capital management approach on a regular basis. The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements, and the Company's overall strategy with respect to capital risk management remains unchanged from the three months ended August 31, 2025.

During the year ended May 31, 2024, the Company received $70,966 in government grants from the Northern Ontario Heritage Fund Corporation (“NOHFC”) INVEST North Program for reimbursement of eligible costs incurred on its building under construction. The Company also received low interest term loans from NOHFC totalling $90,320 (Note 12), where the discount on initial recognition of $36,226 (Note 12) was recognized as a government grant against the cost of building under construction.

9. LEASES

The Company recognized right-of-use assets and corresponding lease liabilities for leases that are within the scope of IFRS 16. The Company's lease arrangements consist of office space and motor vehicles used in its operations.

During the year ended May 31, 2026, the Company also entered into lease agreements for 2 vehicles to support its business operations. Upon commencement of each lease, the Company recognized a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability measured at the present value of the remaining lease payments using the implicit rate of each lease.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated on a straight-line basis over the shorter of the lease term and the useful life of the underlying assets. Lease liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

During the year ended May 31, 2022, the Company entered into a lease agreement for manufacturing and office space for a term of five years. Upon the commencement of the lease, the Company recognized a right-of-use asset of $221,820 and a lease liability of $221,820 using an incremental borrowing rate of 10%. The lease expired on May 31, 2026.However the Company agreed to a 3-month extension. Subsequent to year-end May 31, 2026, the Company entered in a new lease agreement for a new manufacturing facility. The lease is for a 5-year term, with monthly payments for the first year of $21,662 commencing November, 2026.

$500,000 Convertible Debenture Financing

On August 18, 2025, the Company issued 500 secured convertible debentures to an arm's length party, for an aggregate purchase price of $500,000 in order to provide funds for the Company's operations. The convertible debentures have the following terms:

- each convertible debenture will consist of $1,000 principal amount for an aggregate original principal amount of $500,000; Each Warrant (together with the Debentures, the "Purchased Securities") will entitle the holder thereof to acquire one Share at an exercise price of $0.06 for a period of two years from the Closing Date. All Debentures and Warrants purchased by the Subscriber will be represented by one certificate. In the event the Company issues additional warrants at a price lower than the exercise price ($0.06), the exercise price will be adjusted down to that same price.
- the Principal Amount will bear interest at 12% per annum (as defined in the certificate representing the convertible debentures;)
- the convertible debentures will mature 12 months from the date of issuance from August 17, 2025;
- Each Debenture, plus accrued but unpaid interest, is convertible, in whole or in part, at any time while any principal or interest remains outstanding, into common shares of the Company at $0.05 per common share. In the event the Company issues additional common shares or other instruments convertible into common shares at a price lower than the conversion price ($0.05), the conversion price will be adjusted down to that same price.

Upon initial recognition, the convertible debentures were presented as a liability and the embedded conversion feature and warrant option have been presented as a derivative liability requiring bifurcation at fair value, due to the potential variability in the conversion and exercise price.

The Debt Component and conversion feature were valued using a lattice model in the FinCAD software platform, which splits the instrument into an equity (conversion) component discounted at the risk-free rate and a cash-only debt component discounted at the risk-free rate plus a credit spread. This model, rather than Black-Scholes, was required because it accommodates the Company's right to prepay or redeem at any time prior to maturity without penalty, as well as the holder's conversion right at $0.05. The warrants were valued using Black-Scholes, with consideration for dilution. To account for the variability, the Company used multiple Black-Scholes models assigned an estimated probability to each model to determine the fair value at the grant date and at year end.

The fair value of the derivative liability at issuance was $38,155 based on the following key inputs - stock price: $0.045, risk-free rate of 2.67%, expected life of 1 year, volatility factor of 140% and dividend yield of Nil. The fair value of the warrant call option at grant date is $217,715 - stock price: $0.045, risk-free rate of 2.67%, expected life of 2.04 a year, volatility factor of 140% and dividend yield of Nil. The fair value of the Debt Host was determined based on the residual method, being $244,130. The debt issuance costs of $29,800 were prorated and deducted to the convertible debenture - $14,550; Conversion Option- $2,274; and Warrant Option- $12,976.

On June 15, 2026, $50,000 of the principal balance of the August 18, 2025 convertible debentures was converted into 1,000,000 common shares of the Company.

On June 19, 2026, $100,000 of the principal balance of the August 18, 2025 convertible debentures was converted into 2,000,000 common shares of the Company.

On August 18, 2026, The Company has requested that the Debenture holder agree to a limited extension of the Original Maturity Date from August 18, 2026 to September 18, 2026 (the "Extended Maturity

13. CONVERTIBLE DEBENTURES (continued)

Date") in order to allow the Company to complete its ongoing financing and working-capital initiatives. In consideration of the Extension, the Company has paid to the Debenture holder a one-time all-inclusive fee of $10,000 (the "Extension Fee"), which the fee was in full satisfaction of all consideration for the Extension and all interest that would otherwise accrue on the Remaining Principal during the Extension Period

The convertible debenture is amortized using the effective interest rate method. For the three months ended August 31, 2026, as per agreement, the Company recognized $60,704 (2025 - $741) in accretion expense related to the August 18, 2025.
